17 ORDER DENYING
18 DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR 19 RECONSIDERATION

20 Now before the Court is the motion for reconsideration filed by defendants Union
21 Pacific Railroad Company and CUE VI, LLC and joined by North Coast Railroad Authority
22 (collectively, "Defendants"). Having considered the parties' papers, relevant legal authority, 23 and the record in this case, the Court hereby denies Defendants' motion for reconsideration.

24 A party moving for reconsideration must specifically demonstrate: (1) the existence of a 25 material difference in fact or law that was not known at the time of the order, despite the 26 exercise of reasonable diligence; or (2) the emergence of new material facts or change of law
27 occurring after the time of the order; or (3) a manifest failure by the Court to consider material
28 facts or dispositive legal arguments already presented to the Court. Civil L.R. 7-9(a) and (b).
The moving party may not reargue any written or oral argument previously asserted to the Court. Civil L.R. 7-9(c); See also School Dist. No. 1J, Multnomah County, Or. v. ACandS, Inc., 5 F.3d 1255, 1263 (9th Cir. 1993) ("Reconsideration is appropriate if the district court (1) is presented

For the Northern District of California

1 with newly discovered evidence, (2) committed clear error or the initial decision was manifestly
2 unjust, or (3) if there is an intervening change in controlling law.”). Although the Court granted
3 Defendants leave to file a motion for reconsideration, upon further examination, the Court finds 4 that Defendants have not made the necessary showing. The “new” regulation upon which 5 Defendants rely was codified on June 13, 2008, more than four months before the Court issued 6 its order on the parties’ cross-motions for summary judgment. Therefore, Defendants have not 7 shown a change in law that occurred after the time of the order. For this reason, the Court
8 denies Defendants’ motion for reconsideration.

9 Moreover, even if the Court were to consider the merits of Defendants’ motion, the 10 Court finds that Defendants’ motion, in essence, reargues the arguments they made in support 11 of their motion for summary judgment. Notably, Defendants do not even recite the text of the 12 regulation until page nine of their thirteen-page motion. More significantly, Defendants have 13 not demonstrated that the regulation itself even applies to the alleged conduct at issue in this 14 case. Therefore, based on this independent reason as well, the Court denies Defendants’ motion 15 for reconsideration.
